

Phase 01 • Sell

Learn to confidently sell anything.

FOUNDER'S NAME _____

START DATE _____

Hey, founder! Every business starts with a stranger saying YES. Before you build anything, you learn to sell something. Work the tasks in order inside each mission. A task only counts when a parent checks the "Done when" line and initials it. No partial credit!

1 • In order

Do the tasks inside each mission in order, top to bottom.

2 • Evidence or it didn't happen

Every task's proof goes in your Founder File, labeled with the task number.

3 • Yes or no

A parent checks the "Done when" line and initials it. If you're debating, the answer is "not yet."

MISSION MAP • PHASE 01 • SELL • 5 MISSIONS, 25 TASKS

- | | | |
|-------------------------------------|---|---------|
| ☐ 1.1 | Pitch a product in 60 seconds to a grown-up who isn't family, with no notes! | 5 tasks |
| ☐ 1.2 | Make a real sale: a real customer who isn't family, real money changing hands | 5 tasks |
| ☐ 1.3 | Hear "no" at least three times, and learn from every one | 5 tasks |
| ☐ 1.4 | Explain cost, price, and profit for your product, all on one page | 5 tasks |
| ☐ 1.5 | Complete 25 real outreach attempts: a booth, door to door, calls, or messages | 5 tasks |

Your Founder File

On Day 1, set up one binder or folder called your Founder File. Every task's proof (logs, posters, photos, videos) goes in it, labeled with the task number. If the evidence isn't in the file, the task isn't done. By the end, the Founder File is your portfolio.

The Family Demo Session

Every other Saturday (or so), hold a Family Demo Session: a real event on the family calendar, phones down, audience assembled. This is where your demos, pitches, and presentations happen. Treat it like opening night, because it is.

The pencil rule

Work two or three blocks a week. Go at mastery speed, not calendar speed; fast or slow, both are on First Profit. Check a box only when the Done when line is true. When in doubt, the answer is "not yet," and that's fine. It just isn't done yet.

Pitch a product in 60 seconds to a grown-up who isn't family, with no notes!

☐ 1.1.1 Pick your product and write your one-liner

Choose something you made or really want to sell. Say ONE sentence: what it is, who it's for, and why they'd want it. A parent can type while you talk, but the product pick and the sentence are all yours.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): Your one-liner is in your Founder File and you can say it from memory.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.1.2 Write your 60-second pitch

Four beats: a hook, what it is, why it's good, and the ask. No more than 150 words. You say it, a parent types it. Then point to each of the four beats.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): The written pitch is in your Founder File and reads aloud in under 60 seconds.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.1.3 Practice on camera until you don't need notes

Record yourself until you can deliver the pitch with no notes, three times in a row. Your runs can be up to 75 seconds. A parent may hold up picture reminders (pictures only, no words!).

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): A video of three clean, no-notes runs in a row is in your Founder File.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.1.4 Pitch a parent playing a tough customer

Your parent acts like a real, skeptical customer and gives you one honest objection, like "Why would I need that?" Then change ONE thing in your pitch because of it.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): The objection and your one change are written under this task in your Founder File.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.1.5 Pitch a grown-up who isn't family, no notes

Pitch a non-family adult live (a neighbor or coach you know is fine), in under 60 seconds, no notes. Then they say back what your product is and what you asked them to do.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): Their say-back matches your pitch (a parent watches), and you logged the date, their name, and what happened.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

★ COMPLETES THE MISSION

Make a real sale: a real customer who isn't family, real money changing hands

☐ 1.2.1 Choose what you're selling and set the price

Decide exactly what you're selling and what ONE unit is. Your parent lists three price options; you pick one and say why.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): Your offer, unit, and price are in the Founder File with one sentence on how you picked the price.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.2.2 Build your first customer list

With a parent, list TEN real people or households (not family!) you can safely ask, like neighbors and teammates' families, and how you'll reach each one.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): A list of ten names with a way to reach each is in the file, and your parent approved it for safety.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.2.3 Set up how the money works

Decide how money changes hands (cash box, parent's e-transfer) and how you'll deliver. Then do one full practice sale with a parent playing the buyer: hello, ask, payment, hand-over, thank-you. Parent handles the money part; you do everything else.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): The practice run goes start to finish without stopping.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.2.4 Ask until you get one YES

Work your list and make real asks until one real customer says yes and pays real money. A parent stays with you for every single ask, but YOU do the talking.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): Money from a non-family customer is in hand, and the sale (who, what, amount, date) is logged.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.2.5 Deliver, say thank you, and log it

Give your customer exactly what they paid for. Say thank you. Then finish the sale record, including what the customer said.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): The customer has their product, and the sale record plus a photo (product, booth, or hand-off) is in the Founder File.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

★ COMPLETES THE MISSION

Hear "no" at least three times, and learn from every one

☐ 1.3.1 Make your No Log

Your log needs five boxes: date, who you asked, your exact words, what they said, and what it taught you. A parent can draw or print it; you decorate it and explain, in your own words, why collecting no's is the whole point.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): The blank No Log is in your Founder File and you explained why no's matter, in your own words.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.3.2 Get No #1 and write it down

Make a real ask, hear a no, and fill in all five boxes the SAME day. Talk it through with a parent: what did this no teach you? They can help you find the lesson, but the words in the log must be yours.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): No #1 is fully logged, lesson included.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.3.3 Change ONE thing, then get No #2

Before your next asks, change exactly one thing (your offer, your opener, who you ask, or your price) and write it down FIRST. Then keep asking until the next no, and log it.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): Your planned change AND the fully logged No #2 are both in the file.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.3.4 Get No #3

Keep asking! Log the third no with all five boxes filled in.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): No #3 is fully logged.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.3.5 Make your three-lesson summary

A poster or dictated page with: your three lessons, one pattern you spotted across the no's, and one change you'll keep forever in how you sell. Present it out loud to a parent.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): The summary is in the Founder File and you presented it aloud.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

★ COMPLETES THE MISSION

Explain cost, price, and profit for your product, all on one page

☐ 1.4.1 Count every cost

List everything it really costs to make and sell ONE unit (materials, packaging, fees) with real numbers from receipts or store prices. Gather the prices with a parent; YOU do the adding (calculator is fine).

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): The per-unit cost list is in the file and adds up correctly (parent checks the math).

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.4.2 Explain your price

Write your price and WHY: what two other things a customer could buy instead would cost, and why your product is worth it. Three to five sentences.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): Your price explanation, naming two real alternatives, is in the file.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.4.3 Do the profit math

Profit per unit = price minus cost. Then add up your total profit from real sales so far. Whole dollars are fine. Then answer your parent's "what if" question out loud, like "If the price drops a dollar, what happens to profit?"

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): Both numbers are correct in the file and you answered the what-if question out loud.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.4.4 Build your one-pager

Put cost, price, and profit on a single page with at least one drawing, diagram, or chart. Poster style is perfect. You direct the layout; a parent can help put it together.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): It fits on one page and has all three numbers plus your visual.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.4.5 Teach it back

Present your one-pager to a parent playing a curious investor. They ask three questions, like "Which part costs the most to make?" You answer all three with NO help.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): Your parent confirms all three answers were your own and correct.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

★ COMPLETES THE MISSION

Complete 25 real outreach attempts: a booth, door to door, calls, or messages

☐ 1.5.1 Pick your channels and make the safety plan

Pick at least TWO ways to reach people: booth, door-to-door, calls, or messages. With your parent, write the family safety plan: where, when, who supervises, what's off-limits. You BOTH sign it.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): Your channels and the signed safety plan are in the Founder File.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.5.2 Write your openers and build the tracker

Make up a short opener for each channel and say them out loud; a parent can build the tracker for you. It needs 25 rows with columns: date, channel, who, response, note.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): Openers are written and the blank 25-row tracker is ready.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.5.3 Attempts 1-5, side by side

Do your first five attempts with a parent right beside you. They may open the conversation; YOU make the ask. Then talk it over: what was scariest, what worked, and ONE thing to change.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): Rows 1-5 are filled in and your one change is written down.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.5.4 Attempts 6-15, using your change

Ten more attempts using the change you picked. Halfway through, look at the tracker with a parent.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): Rows 6-15 are filled in and a one-line halfway note is added.

PARENT INITIALS _____ DATE _____

☐ 1.5.5 Attempts 16-25, then count your funnel

Finish the last ten attempts. Then count your funnel: attempts → real conversations → yeses. A parent helps count; YOU say the numbers out loud.

DONE WHEN (PARENT CHECKS): All 25 rows are complete and the three funnel numbers are written at the bottom of the tracker.
